

The Music Department of STFX University announces the Daniel and Frances Anzelc Cordeau Music Scholarship

This scholarship - $7000 each year for four years – will be awarded to a promising first year music student.

Terms

Applicants must self-identify as to their Slovenian heritage and background. Preference will be shown to applicants of Slovenian background. In the event that no student of Slovenian background applies, the recipient of the award will be chosen based on their musical ability. Applications will include an essay written to explain their musical experience and aspirations; the essay should also explain their Slovenian background.

All applicants must audition. Live auditions are preferred; video auditions will be accepted. Audition materials should conform to the guidelines specified for their instrument or voice (link). Additional materials, such as prepared solo pieces or examples of original work are strongly suggested. All materials will be judged on their musicality.

Applications for Fall 2021 entry will be taken until 1 April 2021. The recipient of the award will be determined no later than 1 May 2021.
